What corrections did you have to make?

We corrected all the contrast errors by modifying text font and sizes and all the empty button errors by use of the aria label feature.

Given that the photos and captions rely on user-generated content, do you think that the accessibility problems are all solvable? Why or why not?

No, the accessibility issues may not all be solved because user images and texts may not conform to the accessibility standards. For example texts and images may contain font sizes and colors that violate the requirements.

Do you think your website is usable if you turn off the CSS? Why or why not?
No because the CSS still determines the styling such as the layout of various items in the screen. Removing the CSS would destroy the aesthetics, which in turn make it very difficult to navigate the web page.

Yes because we have added alternative text that would act as a substitute for the images if they are turned off.
